Report of the President and Directors.

NEW YORK, December 1st, 1882.

To the Patrons and Members of the Mount Sinai Hospital:

The end of the fiscal year and the approach of the date of the regular annual meeting of this institution impose on us the duty of presenting to you a brief statement of its present financial and general condition.

For some years past, your officers have stated to you the necessity for an enlargement of the building and of effecting substantial changes, repairs, and improvements therein. We quote from our last annual report.

“In all the departments of our institution the work has visibly increased over that of the previous year; 1805 patients were treated, an increase of 110. This clearly demonstrates the popularity and usefulness of the Hospital, and evidences the fact, that with the growth in our population the time is not far distant when our patrons will be called upon to consider the propriety of providing larger accommodations for the sick in our midst. Even now we are oftentimes compelled to reluctantly refuse patients for want of room.”

We felt that this pressing want should be remedied without further delay, especially as we had been advised by our Medical Board that the general sanitary condition of the Hospital was affected injuriously by its existing system of sewage, and that the wooden mouldings, framework and other absorptive material in the wards, so jeopardized the lives of the inmates by rendering them subject to erysipelas and other contagious diseases that it was unsafe to perform any capital operation in the Hospital.

Accordingly during last summer very substantial changes in the building were begun, and are just about to be completed. They have included the erection of additional wings 20 by 30 feet and two stories in height; a new system of sewerage embodying the most recent improvements; the creation of more extensive laundry and kitchen facilities; the removal of all woodwork and similar dangerous material; a new building for cases requiring isolation; suitable rooms for patients in the eye and ear department (opened some years ago), the cases treated in which require special arrangements in respect to the regulation of light and sound; more storeroom for linens and other property; the re-pointing and painting of the outside and inside of the buildings; a new engine and machinery for the laundry, and many other additions, changes and improvements, a detailed report of which, and of the expenses attendant thereon, will be furnished in the next annual report, the work not yet having been fully completed, and a part only of the entire cost (which will be about $50,000) having thus far been paid. Upon the completion of all of this work (of which due notice will be given) the Hospital will be open for your inspection and that of the public. The usual annual reception has for this reason been deferred, but it is intended to hold the same some time in February, when all the improvements will have been made, and the eye wards then formally opened.

We are sanguine enough to believe that, when finished, the Hospital will be the most thoroughly equipped, and the best-(in point of sanitary condition) of any in this country.

FINANCES.

It will be observed that the payments already made on account of these vast improvements have diminished the permanent fund to a considerable extent, nor has this diminution been counter-balanced, either by large bequests or legacies, or by any addition to our list of patrons and members. The permanent fund at present is $140,000, being $8,500 less than last year. The current expenses of the institution amount in round numbers to $56,000. The total receipts from our patrons and members (the only receipts upon which we can with any degree of certainty rely) amount to $30,700. The regular revenues of the institution should at least equal its usual current expenses, so that moneys received on account of, or credited to the permanent fund should be applied only in exigent cases, such as the improvements which have been made this year.

A survey of our list of patrons and members will show that of the fifteen thousand Jewish families in the City of New York not more than twenty-one hundred are represented in the rolls of regular contributions.

LEGACIES.

The following legacies have been received:

Legacy of the late Mrs. Fanny Lissner . .	$100 00
“ “ “ “ Mr. Jos. M. Oettinger .	100 00
“ “ “ “ Mr. David Black (add.)	50 00
“ “ “ “ Mr. Henry Harris . .	500 00
“ “ “ “ Dr. Simeon Abrahams (additional) . .	10,980 00
“ “ “ “ Mr. Manassas Hirsch .	100 00
“ “ “ “ Mr. Naphtali K. Rosen- feld,	1,000 00
“ “ “ “ Mr. Morris Falkman .	100 00
“ “ “ “ Mr. William Rosenberg	250 00
	$13,180 00

In the codicil of the will of Sarah Burr we are named as beneficiaries to the extent of $10,000 with an interest in the residuary estate. The will and codicil have been contested, but we hope to receive the money bequeathed to us.

SUNDRY RECEIPTS.

From the Board of Apportionment we received an allotment out of the excise moneys of $5,724.

For a life bed, which was dedicated by Mrs. DeWitt J. Seligman, $1,000.

The current expenditures (exclusive of moneys expended for the improvements before mentioned) have been $56,071.59, a slight decrease below those of last year.

DISPENSARY.

The demands upon this department of our Hospital work are greater than ever, and bid fair to increase steadily. One hundred and seventeen patients on an average receive treatment and medicine daily. The remedies thus afforded often check diseases at their inception and avoid in many cases the necessity of receiving the patients within the Hospital.

HOSPITAL SATURDAY AND SUNDAY ASSOCIATION.

From the total amount realized at the last collection of this association, upon the basis of the number of free patients treated and days of hospital care gratuitously extended during the year, we were again entitled to and received the largest proportion of the entire undesignated collections made.

THE FLOWER MISSION.

To the ladies of the Flower Mission we convey the grateful thanks of the many whose stay in the wards of the institution was rendered more pleasant by the beautiful gifts of flowers sent by the ladies of this mission.

LADIES' AUXILIARY SOCIETY.

To this more than to any other organization are we indebted for co-operation in our work; many details of the management were carefully supervised by the members of this society, and invaluable service was rendered by them, not only by providing us with an ample supply of clothing and other necessities, but the general interest manifested by these ladies has resulted in adding materially to the happiness of our inmates.

THE PURIM ASSOCIATION.

The great obligation under which this institution rests toward this association will be increased, its members having resolved that the proceeds of their annual ball in March next shall be devoted to our benefit.

EDUCATION OF CHILDREN IN OUR WARDS.

The matter of educating the children who have become convalescent in the Hospital (alluded to in our previous report) has been carried into practical effect through the efforts of Mrs. Charles Hendricks and Miss Julia Richman who organized a corps of volunteer teachers and supervised this course of instruction in our wards.

To all who assisted in this noble and charitable work, we herewith tender our thanks.

THE MEDICAL STAFF.

To the physicians and surgeons who compose the medical and surgical staff of the Hospital, including those attached to the dispensary staff, the executive officers, on behalf of the members of the institution and of the inmates who have been the beneficiaries of their zealous, unintermittent, and skilful professional assistance, tender their warmest thanks. The prominent rank conceded to the Hospital by all acquainted with the comparative excellence of similar institutions, is held mainly because of the successful treatment of the patients under the care of these self-sacrificing men. Drs. Cramer, Weiss, Rice, Coleman, Shiland and Mack have filled their respective positions on the house staff to our full satisfaction.

Dr. David Froehlich has been for many years the admitting physician of the Hospital. His work has been faithfully performed and deserves special recognition. The pressure of other duties has compelled him, greatly to our regret, and his own, to resign from his official connection with us. Dr. D. H. Davison has been appointed in his stead.

The successful and eminent gynæcologist, Dr. Emil Noeggerath, also for many years a most valued member of the staff, has resigned. We thank him for services rendered to our institution. Dr. Paul F. Mundé was appointed in his place.

SUPERINTENDENT AND MATRON.

Length of service serves only to increase the efficiency of Mr. Theodore Hadel, whose supervision of the Hospital is, as it always has been, most satisfactory; the selection of his wife, Mrs. Helena Hadel, as matron has proved to be a most judicious one.

The consolation and comfort which the presence of the ministers of our faith affords to the sick and suffering entitles them to our gratitude. We thank the editors and proprietors of the Jewish and German press for the regular supply of their valuable journals.

The sad duty devolves upon us of chronicling the deaths of the following members and patrons for the year 1882.

The list presents the names of many whose life-long charity and benevolence have endeared them to the community; of these there is none whose memory deserves to be more hallowed than that of Naphtali K. Rosenfeld, for many years a Vice-President of the Hospital, and always one of its best and staunchest friends. Upon his death suitable resolutions were passed and spread upon our minutes.

In the death of Mrs. Sarah Heinemann our institution has lost one of its most generous donors; she having already during her lifetime dedicated a perpetual bed in her own name. She manifested a warm interest in the well-doing of our patients and in the welfare of the Hospital generally.

Our esteemed Director and former President, Adolph Hallgarten, Esq., tendered his resignation, which was accepted by us with great regret, particularly so, as the prolonged absence which induced him to offer it was occasioned by a long stay abroad seeking rest to regain his wonted health. We are thereby deprived of a respected colleague, and our institution of a most active and zealous advocate. We but express the individual sentiments of every member of the Board when we say that we shall gladly welcome his return, that he may resume his place in our midst, and as heretofore devote his efforts to the interest of our Hospital, that broad field of charity in which cause his heart was so earnestly enlisted, and for which his best energies were ever directed. It is our sincere hope that he may be spared for many years, continuing that philanthropic care for the suffering and needy, that career of usefulness to his fellow-men for which he has received marked recognition from us, and for which he so richly deserves the thanks of the community.

We submit this report, believing that whatever the shortcomings or errors of our administration may have been, the manner of the performance of our duties will meet with your approval. Presenting as this Hospital does to the world an example of an institution which, while sustained by moneys derived only from people of our race, distributes its benefits indiscriminately and unhesitatingly among those of every race and creed: and we are conscious that it inspires general interest and attention as a model of true non-sectarian charity, and of a benevolence which, while not ignoring the paramount duty of caring for those more immediately identified with the class who support it, extends its protection universally. This consciousness should nerve us to make the Hospital worthy in every respect of its high repute, and it should also serve as an incentive to every co-religionist to interest himself in our work, at least to the extent of contributing to its maintenance and support.

Report of the Executive Committee

NEW YORK, December 1st, 1882.

To the President and Board of Directors of Mount Sinai Hospital:

Society, in taking man from his nomad state and the rude habits of primitive life, has assumed obligations, as if by mutual compact, to provide the necessities for those who may become a burden upon it.

In presenting to you the tabulated statement of the Executive Department of Mount Sinai Hospital, we can offer no new features; it is the same picture of suffering softened by the golden light of man's bounty.

And now, at the expiration of another year in the history of the Hospital, the time is set for us to render to you an account of our stewardship.

At the fifty-two meetings held by your Committee during the past year, the various duties assigned to it have been performed, as we hope, in a manner satisfactory to you. Full and regular attendance by its members may be noted, and their deliberations on all questions of management have been actuated by a feeling of economy, without disregarding the best interests of the Hospital.

Although one wing of the Hospital was closed for seven months on account of important alterations and sanitary improvements, it is noteworthy that, while many applicants were necessarily refused for want of room, accommodations were nevertheless provided for as many patients as in the past year. The clinic was fitted up temporarily for a male ward, and all available room was utilized for the reception of patients; it was our aim to prevent any diminution of the good work, and that the much-needed alterations should not deprive the community of the advantages and benefits of our Hospital.

It is a fact well-known to every householder that the cost of all kinds of food has been higher than for many years; this, with the large number of internes for the service, has produced a marked increase in the per capita cost of each patient during the year.

The entire expenses for the year, less outlays of $1,202.90 for improvements and $6,131.10 for the maintenance of our Dispensary, were $49,737.09; with 40,850 days of Hospital care, makes the average cost per day per capita $$1.21\frac{7}{10}$, as against $1.05 last year. Nevertheless, the statistics of the Hospital S. and S. Association show our per capita cost this year to be below that of any other similar institution in the city.

The outlays for food were \$19,317.03, with an average daily number of $111\frac{2}{10}$ patients, and $52\frac{2}{10}$ internes make a total of 59,729 days of support, and shows a per capita cost per day of $32\frac{3}{10}$ cents. For the previous year it was $29\frac{9}{10}$ cents, thus clearly demonstrating that the increased per capita cost was mainly due to higher prices of meat, provisions, etc.

The general condition of the Hospital is much improved. With the much-needed isolation building, wards for the Eye and Ear Department, with a new and larger laundry and kitchen, all of which have been built during the year, together with general improvements in every part of the Hospital, especially in the wards, where every sanitary feature has been introduced, giving us better light, ventilation, impervious walls, and every possible protection against hospital infection, it is no idle boast to claim for Mount Sinai Hospital as great advantages as those in any similar institution in the land.

The completion of these vast additions and alterations will inaugurate a new era in its history and enable it to render still more good.

The discipline of the Hospital is well maintained, good feeling and order exist in the several departments, and the concerted action of all its attachés is at all times exercised for its best interests.

In no department has there been more marked improvement than in the female wards, where the experienced nurses of the Mount Sinai Training School have been placed in charge.

From this corps of educated nurses our patients receive better care, and their wants are administered to by an intelligent class who fully recognize the great responsibilities they have assumed in the care of our sick. The system has worked well and in a most satisfactory manner, and while these nurses are paid regular salaries, we have nevertheless rendered a boon to our patients by substituting these for the class heretofore employed.

While the work of the Training School is not recognized as a charity, it must be admitted to be one of philanthropy; it is twofold in the good it achieves, providing as it does a new field for honorable employment, and rendering a benefit to the community in supplying it with capable and experienced nurses.

It is a well-known fact that the nurse is an important auxiliary to the aid of the physician in the treatment of the patient.

Our medical staff gives the highest commendations to the system in general, as well as to the nurses from the Training School in charge of our female wards. We believe we may therefore be permitted to digress and say that the Mount Sinai Training School (to the management of which many of our ladies have given their valuable time and best efforts) deserves recognition and support from all those in our community who are philanthropically inclined.

DISPENSARY.

This valuable adjunct to our indoor department presents a record showing the greatest amount of work performed since it has been established.

No better commentary can be made as to its usefulness than to state the figures. 35,785 consultations have been held and 40,025 prescriptions prepared during the year, being nearly twenty per cent increase in the number of consultations, and twenty-five per cent increase in the number of prescriptions dispensed over the preceding year, which was then already the largest recorded during the existence of the Dispensary.

The entire work is one of charity, no pay being received either for drugs or for medical supplies.

For more detailed statements we refer you to the reports of the Committee on Dispensary.

The figures presented showing the treatment of 1,731 free patients in the Hospital and 35,785 consultations in our Dispensary, necessitating the giving of medicine for 40,025 prescriptions without charge, are more eloquent, more forcible in conveying to the mind the magnitude of the good achieved in our institution than can be imparted by mere words.

Many of these, with the limited hospital accommodations of our growing city, would otherwise fall a burden upon our public charities. That these benefits have been extended to all classes and denomination without distinction may truly be recognized as a picture of the broadest liberality, entitling our institution to the support of the community in general.

The dawn is breaking in our midst; we feel that we are all linked in one common chain of brotherhood; that it needs no claim other than fellowship for the unfortunate and distressed to receive aid from those who from their more favored situation are enabled to extend their bounty to others.

In the busy marts of the world earnestly engaged in the struggles of life, we but seldom glance at the pages in the obscure book of man's suffering.

The records of our hospital cases when scanned are found to contain the histories of our patients from a medical standpoint only; yet could we pen the history of their life's experience and vicissitudes, what a volume would be presented of hopes unfilled, trials without end, tribulations, suffering, and care; each case in its stern reality conveying its particular tale of misery and woe.

In the tenderness of our nature, from a feeling of commiseration, we are apt to withhold our gaze from such scenes, yet a true realization of life in all its phases has a benignant influence by chastening the human heart, thus making us better fitted for our duties toward mankind.

The relations with our sister institutions have, as in the previous years, been in most friendly and pleasant accord; we may say they have been strengthened by our mutual efforts to assist each other in the work intrusted to all by the community. We have received and treated the sick from the Hebrew Orphan Asylum, the Deborah Nursery, Sheltering Guardian Society, and Home for Aged and Infirm Hebrews.

Our work has been lightened by the material aid rendered us by the United Hebrew Charities in caring for and assisting those applying to us, who, while not hospital cases, require consideration and care. Their ready response in providing for these unfortunates deserves marked recognition at our hands; we only re-echo the sentiments of the community in saying that the vast work assumed by them has been and is being well performed.

Our thanks are due and hereby expressed to Drs. Jacobi, Loomis, Stimson, Rudisch, Gruening, Fluhrer, Gerster, Heineman, Wyeth, and Mundé, comprising the several members of our attending staff.

To Drs. Parker and Markoe, our consulting Surgeons, we offer our recognition of their active interest in the welfare of our institution.

Dr. David Frohlich, for so many years the Admitting Physician of the Hospital, tendered his resignation, to take effect from the first of December, which was reluctantly accepted. Ever faithful and efficient in the performance of his duties, he leaves with us a record of which he can be justly proud.

Dr. Davison, formerly on our House Staff, and for many years active in the Children's Department of our Dispensary, has been appointed in his place.

Our Superintendent and Matron, Mr. and Mrs. Hadel, fill their respective positions conscientiously and to our full satisfaction. The interests of the Hospital are carefully watched by them, and their several departments have been managed in a most praiseworthy manner.

The Ladies' Auxiliary Society has again during the year, as in the past, meritoriously discharged its trust in providing our inmates with apparel and the Hospital with linen and bedding.

The ladies in charge of this charity deserve our highest praise; zealous in their labor of love, they bring with their holy cause that perseverance and energy so marked in woman when her heart is earnestly enlisted in the work in which she is engaged. We thank the ladies of the Auxiliary Society for their noble efforts in behalf of the sick committed to our care.

Generations come and go; the softening influence of man's benevolence is handed down to posterity; we look into the past, and towering up above all are the bright examples of the good and noble characters whose aim it was to ameliorate the condition of the unfortunate. Peace has its victories as well as war; so in the fields of charity and philanthropy we place the laurel upon those who give a thought to the elevation of mankind.

Such reflections cause us to remember the founders of this, one of the great charities of our metropolis. Their names should be held in most grateful recollection, enshrined in the hearts of all; their deeds recorded as a noble example; their aims, though inaugurated under most inauspicious surroundings, have achieved great results, and have been productive of manifold blessings to our community.

Report of Dispensary Committee.

NEW YORK, December 1st, 1882.

To the President and Board of Directors of the Mount Sinai Hospital:

Your Committee, in submitting their annual summary of the work done by the Dispensary during the past year, call your attention to both the great popularity of this important branch of your institution and to the steady increase of its applicants, and point furthermore with pride and satisfaction to the great benefit which the community at large derives from it by relieving a great number of respectable people, and restoring to health and usefulness a class too poor to procure medical and surgical treatment otherwise.

The reports of the different Departments show that the consultations during the past fiscal year have risen to 35,785, and the prescriptions issued to 38,165; an increase of 5,776 consultations and 7,581 prescriptions over last year, and classified as follows :

Within the past few months an Eye and Ear Department has been created and as soon as the proper rooms are completed, patients will be received therein for treatment.

We are indebted to our able and diligent staff for the faithful and earnest manner with which they discharge their various duties and the great services which they render.

During the year, Dr. Cor. Williams, a zealous worker for many years in the Surgical Department, resigned and his place was filled by Dr. George W. Leonard.

Dr. Paul F. Mundé, from the Gynæcological Department, was appointed Gynæcologist of the Hospital; this vacancy on the Dispensary Staff has not yet been permanently filled.

The able and economical manner with which our Pharmacy is managed by Mr. Monroe Chas. Griessman, assisted by Mr. Leon Baselansky, deserves our highest commendation.

We thank the Supervisory Committee of the Medical Staff for their assistance and advice whenever such was called for.

No pulpit can preach in more persuasive eloquence the religion of love, humanity, and toleration than the spirit of noble impulses which animated you to establish this Institution, and the sacrifices and energies you bring forward to support it and enlarge its beneficence.

No better demonstration of its necessity, its practical utility, and the judicious dispensation of its charity can be afforded than the crowds of worthy poor, irrespective of nationality and creed, who daily flock to its doors, afflicted and suffering, seeking relief, endeavoring to regain health and, through it, contentment.

No words can describe the great results accomplished by your work; the many lives it has rescued from misery and decay, and the many homes it has gladdened, by restoring to health those on whom many families were dependent for support and care, and to whom they clung with affection.

Let our reward be in the proud satisfaction that we have endeavored to discharge our duties conscientiously toward our fellow-men.

Respectfully submitted,

SOL. SOMMERICH, Chairman.
